

Piped Music in the Bush A Fantasy of Classical Pipes

The third concert in Peter Hagen's series just out of Broadford will feature a real pipe organ on loan from the Melbourne University Early Music Studio. The small chamber organ has wooden pipes and produces a surprisingly large range of sounds from quiet and sweet to more brilliant and louder sounds. Often used in orchestras playing music from the 17th and 18th centuries, these organs have seen a rise in popularity where musicians are seeking that extra touch of authenticity

In just over a month Peter is due to record on a similar pipe organ in England with Jane Downer the featured musician in this concert "in the bush". The clear haunting tones of her baroque oboe blend beautifully with the sounds of the chamber organ in this programme entitled "Fantasia". Most of the programme will be recorded on the CD this duo are recording with one of England's top recording engineers.

You can hear this duo on Sunday 25 May @ 4.00pm in the intimate surroundings of Peter Hagen's mud brick house and sit close to the performers as they play music by Johann Sebastian Bach and Johann Ludwig Krebs, one of the great J. S. Bach's most gifted pupils. This being the year of his Tricentenary it seems more than fitting to both perform and record Krebs's music.

Peter is dedicated to providing local people high quality classical music and this programme will certainly continue this tradition. As many of the dedicated audience members say, "It means I don't have to travel to Melbourne and pay for expensive parking and meals". Post-concert drinks are complimentary too, thus helping with the wonderful sense of occasion at these concerts.

Tickets are $38 or early bird tickets $32 (early bird is up to 10 days before concert). You can also pre-order a plate of 5 pieces of yummy gluten free nibbles provided by "One Red Pantry" in Kilmore for $8.00. With the limited seating bookings are essential and can be made online using either of the following links.
