

PEOPLE AND PLACES

CORNERING the MARKETS

There's no doubt that there is a quiet revolution happening with the demand for genuinely fresh produce that has not clocked up extended "food miles" while maintaining a direct connection with the producer.

Locally produced meat, vegetables, eggs, flowers & plants, honey, herbs, nuts, cheese, wine, beer & cider; hand-made greeting cards, art & craft, soaps & essences; leather goods, farm art, picture frames, musical instruments....are all readily available at local weekend markets

Happily, if you live within the Strathbogie region you can indulge in a local market experience on almost any given weekend.

NOTES FROM HIGHLANDS PRIMARY SCHOOL

Student of the Week— Daniel

For his wonderful film-making and the joy his work is bringing to his classmates! Well done!

Excursion to Yea: What a fabulous day we had last Friday when we visited Yea. We spent the morning at the Y Water Centre and were suitably impressed and engaged with the interactive activities available there.

We spent the next 40 minutes with Zanni and Jasper in the Yea Community Garden. Students picked and ate vegies and listened to Zanni as she explained the compost units and the worm farm. After lunch we headed to the Shire Hall to watch the Yea High School Musical Alice 'n' Movieland, written and directed by Philip Wischer. The show was a hit with all students bobbing along to the songs. The Village People were the biggest hit!

LOCAL GOINGS ON

'Snapshots' an Exhibition by Yea Artist Meg Heres

Snapshots consist of the paintings that I created whilst on my trip in May this year to the Greek Island of Hydra and to Nice, South of France plus the nearby perched villages in Provence.

I have visited Hydra many times. I love this Island not only for the scenery but the beauty of its people, its lifestyle and the peace and tranquility that I experience every time I visit. The main mode of transport on land is donkeys by sea motor boats, yachts & ferries from Athens.

South of France (Provence) there are many beautiful little perched villages only a short bus ride from Nice. They all have individual beauty, history, narrow cobbled streets, and street cafes, wonderful markets etc. Things that I just love to experience. Life in the villages is much slower, more relaxed than in busy Nice.

(A bit like Yea where I live)

I have enjoyed painting and putting this exhibition together and hope that you the viewer enjoy it too

Both have lost the ability to create in their own particular 'art' which is causing them considerable angst. Jack was a talented poet but has lost his early promise and Dina is a gifted artist with agonizing arthritis and is now challenged to find another way to continue her work. Directed by Fred Schepisi the movie reveals the conflict between the two – one believing that words are more important and the other is determined to prove her pictures are more expressive and powerful. So who will win the day? Starring the delightful Juliette Binoche who is engaged in her battle with Clive Owen – both performing extremely well.
